

Dealings were made for the account of discretionary investment clients.